Divine Mercy Sunday

A Universal Church Feast observed on the
First Sunday after Easter

Sunday, April 7, 2024

In her Diary, St. Maria Faustina Kowalska recorded 14 revelations from our Lord requesting this feast. The most complete, concise description is found in entry 699:

I desire that the Feast of Mercy be a refuge and a shelter for all souls, and especially for poor sinners. ... The soul that will go to Confession and receive Holy Communion shall obtain complete forgiveness of sins and punishment.

To receive the extraordinary graces of this feast, the only condition is to receive Holy Communion worthily on Divine Mercy Sunday (or the vigil celebration) by making a good Confession beforehand and staying in the state of grace, and receive with great trust in Divine Mercy.

We also are encouraged to venerate the Divine Mercy Image (see back of flyer) and perform acts of mercy through deed, word, or prayer.

Read more about this feast at TheDivineMercy.org/celebrate

The Image of Divine Mercy

The Image of Jesus, the Divine Mercy, is to be venerated* on Divine Mercy Sunday. It is to be given a place of honor in our churches and homes on this Sunday. Our Lord appeared to St. Faustina and then directed her to have this appearance of Himself as the Merciful Savior painted and then venerated publicly. He told her, I want the Image to be solemnly blessed on the first Sunday after Easter, and I want it to be venerated publicly so that every soul may know about it (Diary of Saint Maria Faustina Kowalska, 341).

In the Image, the pale and red rays symbolize the Blood and Water that flowed from His side while He was on the Cross. But, in His appearance to St. Faustina, they had been transformed into glorious rays, a source of healing graces for sinners who will turn to Him with trust. That is why the Image bears the inscription: "Jesus, I trust in You!"

We can venerate the Image of Jesus, the Divine Mercy, by gazing upon it in prayer and adoration. As signs of our love for Jesus, we can place candles and flowers before the Image. First and foremost, as we gaze upon our Merciful Savior in prayer, we can decide to trust in Him and to perform works of mercy — responding to the call to be merciful as He has shown mercy to us.

 To "venerate" a sacred image simply means to perform some act or make some gesture of deep religious respect toward it because of the person whom it represents.

The image is a full-length portrait of Jesus Christ, known as the Divine Mercy Image. He is depicted with long, wavy brown hair and a beard, wearing a blue robe with long, flowing sleeves. His hands are raised in a gesture of blessing, with palms facing forward. From his chest, two powerful rays of light emerge: a pale yellow ray on the left and a vibrant red ray on the right. These rays expand as they descend, creating a large, luminous cone of light that fills the lower half of the image. The background is a dark, solid color, which makes the light rays stand out prominently. At the bottom of the image, the text "Jesus, I Trust in You" is written in a gold, serif font.

Jesus, I Trust in You
